

INTRODUCTION

It has been thirty years since I said yes to the invitation from God to enter the ministry. Since then I have heard enough sermons, read enough books, and listened to enough tapes to sink a ship, or at least to build a gospel ship.

None of these messages has impacted me more than the message on perception preached at my Church by my Pastor, Bishop Don Meares. That message opened my heart to the power inherent in our perception of God's governmental order in our lives.

Both the Old and New Testaments give illustrations supporting the concept that there is power in our perception of God's governmental order in the Church. I have used those texts within the frame of the power of perception to develop the special theme of this book, Perceive Your Sent Man Of God. The reader-friendly format of this book makes it suitable for daily devotion.

Some of the insights you will receive from these pages are:

- How you perceive someone is how you will receive them.
- Your enemy understands rhythms, cycles, and patterns.
- Understanding how your enemy moves lets you mess up his timing.
- You cannot break rank without first knowing what rank is.
- You do not wrestle against flesh and blood but against the ranks of hell.
- Because God controls the enemy whom He created, no weapon formed against you will prosper.
- Perceiving the Sent Man of God in your life results in the gates of hell being unable to prevail against you.

May you perceive God's revelation of the Sent Man of God in your life, and may that ongoing perception empower you to move in ever greater dimensions of power and victory.
